AN INSURANCE COMPANY SUED A Claim for $1,500 Alleged to Be Unpaid on a Policy.

Suit was filed against the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company yesterday by Carrie B. Perkins to recover $1,500 claimed to be due her by the defendant. It is stated that on June 18, 1909, the defendant issued a policy of insurance to Charles H. Perkins for 15.50, payable upon his death to his widow, the plaintiff.

Perkins died on June 19 last, and proofs of his death were forwarded to the insurance company, which, it is said, refused and still refuses to pay the policy. Birney & Woodard are named as counsel for the plaintiff.

Suppression of Objectionable Patent Medicine Advertising May Follow -A Boston Man Wishes to Confe With the Postmaster General.

After a lengthy consultation with publishers of leading newspapers in the New England States, B. G. Underwood, of Boson, has come to Washington for a conference with the Pogtmaster General in relation to various reforms in the privileges of the second class mail matter class, announced to go into effect October 1. The reforms are understood to embrace the supression of objectionable advertising matter, and especially advertisements of certain patent medicines. According to Mr. Underwood, newspapers which print these advertisements after October 1 will be denied transmission through the mails as d class mall matter.

"The question is one of great impor-tance to newspaper publishers," said Mr. Underwood yesterday, "and more espec-ially so to the publishers of small country Numerous reforms will be instituted on October I. Among the matters which we wish to discuss and consider with the Postoffice Department are the

The agitation started through the fact that the nedical advertising has grown border and more offensive every year, so much so that many libraries in the United States have declined to allow publications printing them in their rooms."

Speaking of the 2,000 small country papers, Mr. Underwood declared that they will be greatly benefited by the reforms which the Postoffice Department is about to inaugurate. It is understood that Mr. Underwood has made a test case before the department in regard to the "Brock-

In a circular letter issued to postmasters regarding the matter Mr. Madden said: "In considering applications for the entry of publications under the act of July 16, 1994, postmasters will be guided by the words of the law and extracts from opinions of the Assistant Attorney General for this department published below:

General for this department pultiched below:

The act referred to reads as follows:

"Provided, that from and after the passage of this act all periodical sublications issued from a known place of publication at stated intervals and as frequently as four times a year by or under the auspices of a benevolent or fraternal society or order organized under the lodge system, and having a bona fide membership of not less than 1,000 persons, or by a regularly incorporated institution of learning or by or under the auspices of a trades union, and all publications of strictly professional, literary, historical, or scientific societies, including the bulletins issued by State boards of health, shall be admitted to the mails as second-class matter, and no more; provided further, that such matter shall be originated and pulposes of such society, order, trades union or institution of learning and shall be formed of printed paper sheets without board, cloth, leather, or other substantial binding, such as distinguish printed books for preservation from periodical publications."

odical publications."

The opinion rendered by James N. Tyner, the Assistant Attorney General for the Postoffice Department, under date of April 4, 1990, is as follows:

"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 28th ultimo requesting my opinion as to the meaning of the terms a regularly incorporated institution of learning, as contained in the act of July 18, 1891, relating to the admission to the mails as second-class matter of publications issued by benevolent or fraternal societies, institu-

July 16, 1884, of a periodical publication issued by said company.

"You state that there are two classes of institutions applying for the privileges of this act; first, those of a public character incorporated under the name of the institution itself; and second, those of a private character, incorporated by a stock company for purpose of gain.

"In my judgment the aim of the act of July 16, 1884, is to promote the interests of institutions of learning organized for the benefit of the public and not for any company or person maintaining and conducting a school, college or place of instruction for the personal benefit of the owner or stockholders.

"The Gainesville Business College Company is incorporated under the laws of the State of the contract of the laws."

"The Gainesville Business College Company is incorporated under the laws of the State of Texas for the purpose of giving instruction, and such business is conducted for the benefit of the stockholders of the company. This company is not, in my judgment, a 'regularly incorporated institution of learning within the meaning of the act of July 16, 1894, and therefore, a publication issued by it is not admissible to the mails as second-class section under the act." missible to the act." atter under the act." Inder date of January 24, 1901, Mr.

Under date of January 24, 1991, Mr. fyner held: "I have before me your letters dated November 20, 1990, and December 7, 1999, November 30, 500 submitted a number of specimen periodicals, and ask 'to have a settlement of the following questions.'

"First. The right of a publisher, under the 'educational' act, to insert any adver-tising not pertaining strictly and immedi-ately to the propagation of learning in its technical sense, as inculcating a knowl-edge of those branches of education which cultivate and enlarge the mind, as distinct from the sale of school furniture or any other article.

"Under this law, to entitle a paper to be sent through the mails at second-class rates, among other things, the matter contained therein shall be originated and published to further the objects and purposes of such society, order, trades union, or institution of learning. In reply, therefore, to your enquiry designated Tirst," I have to state that in my opinion a paper containing advertisements in the interest of other persons or concerns than the society, order, trades union, or institution of learning which such paper represents, is not entitled to the privileges of the law quoted. My opinion is strengthened by the fact that the act of Congress (March R, ISF9), which authorizes you to accept at second-class rates certain periodical publications having a legitimate list of subscribers, expressly states:

"That nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prohibit the insertion in periodicals of advertisements attached permanently to the same.

"This provise applies only to the act in which it was incorporated, and as Congress has not seen lit to insert a similar provision in the act of July 16, 1894, we cannot place it there." "Under this law, to entitle a paper to be

Gigantic Purchase of Carpets!

Instead of the usual last of August dullness in Carpet-selling, the balance of the month shall be a season of unusual activity here. All the objections against "buying early" shall be overcome by the inducements we shall make in the sale we start today of

The stocks which we've secured at 50c on the dollar as the result of the recent consolidation of

E. S. Higgins Carpet Co. and the Hartford Carpet Co .-- two of the largest concerns in the country. The immense purchase consists of close on to three carloads of the very highestgrade carpets, which we offer at really unheard-of prices-values which will cause competitors to stand aghast, and which will make this the most-talked-of store in town. All carpets bought during this sale will be cut now and made up, and put down later when you desire it, the only requirement being that you make a cash deposit now and pay the balance when the carpets are on the floor.

No greater evidence that this house sells high-grade carpets for less than others could be desired 'han the facts that we have recently secured the following contracts in competition with other large carpet houses of this city and New York:
